Congratulations to our friends at Suna Interior Design

March 26, 2013 10:18 pm

We are so pleased for our friends at Suna Interior Design for winning a prestigious kbbreview Award and it's not their first.

Helen Fewster and Rebecca Tucker, Directors of Suna Interior Design, have won their third consecutive Bathroom Contract Designer of the Year award in the prestigious 2013 kbbreview Awards. The national awards are organised by kbbreview, the UK's leading magazine for the kitchen and bathroom industry. The award winning London based boutique interior design consultancy was last night announced as the winner in the Bathroom Contract Designer of the Year category. The category was sponsored by the Society of British Interior Design and the award was presented by President Vanessa Brady.

Helen and Rebecca told us "We are delighted to win our fifth kbbreview Award and our third consecutive Bathroom Contract Designer of the Year Award. The kbbreview Awards are highly recognised in the industry, and as a company who works with large scale developers on their interior specification, we are incredibly proud of this win, it is a fantastic acknowledgment."

Tim Wallace, editor of kbbreview said: "I would like to wish a well deserved congratulations to both Helen and Rebecca for their success at this year's kbbreview Awards. We had a record-breaking number of entrants this year and the standard was incredibly high, and so Helen and Rebecca should be very proud of themselves."
